1. There is very little chemical interaction between Ti and C in industrial rutile chlorinators.

2. These new species also play no role in the flame synthesis of TiO\(_2\). Water is the only important reactant.

3. Using an RDF database for the dissemination of thermochemical data offers significant advantages.

Many thanks to St Edmund’s College, Cambridge and The Cambridge Commonwealth Trust.